*Though not the best in form
or journalistic perfectness,
It is you; it is us.

REINHARDT COLLEGE
WALESKA, GEORGIA

Foreword

To peace, to calmness, and to security
May these days
Lived at Reinhardt

Be used as a medium for Increment of understanding and
The advancement of leadership ability.

It is with sincere gratitude
For opportunity,
For originality of thought,
And personal responsibility,
The policy of this institution,

That we submit
This meager attempt to preserve
The days that will never be . . . again.

JOE E. JOHNSTON

President's Message

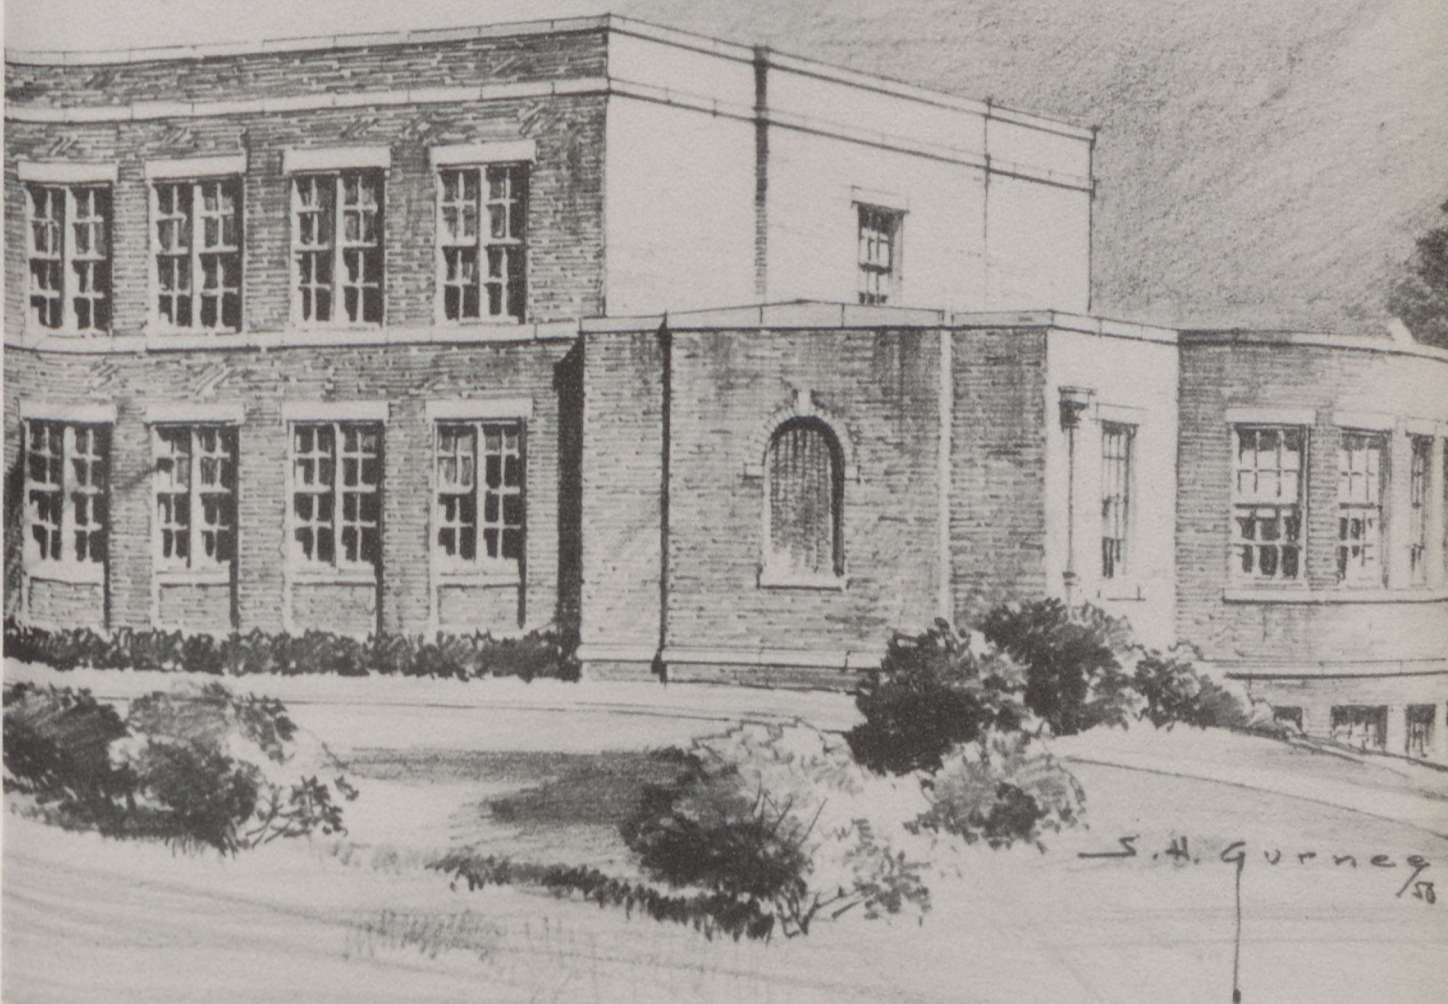

Since it would be futile for me to wish every student complete happiness and unbroken success, may I hope that there will always be worth-while things you want to do, people you love, and trusting faith in Him who said, "I am come that ye might have life and have it more abundantly."

J. R. Burgess, Jr.

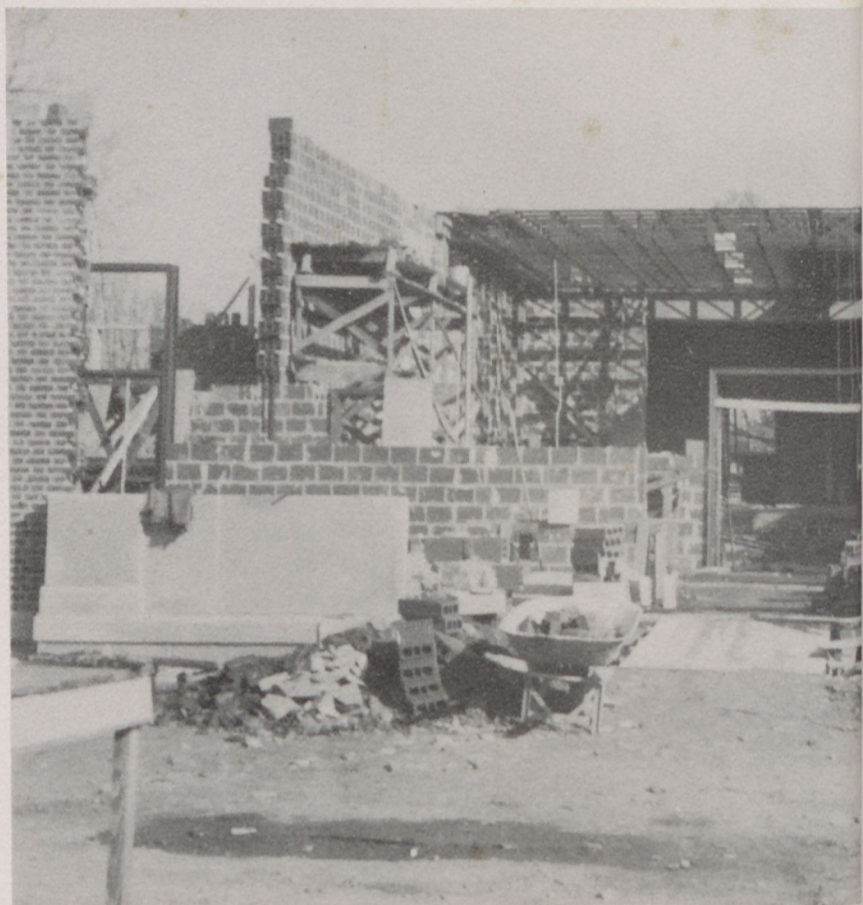

The new main building scheduled for completion in May will provide eight classrooms, eight offices, four music rooms, two large library rooms, auditorium, student center, and storage rooms. Constructed of brick tile, concrete, steel and stone, it is fire resistant and conforms to latest safety codes. It is a beautiful structure designed for long years of service to youth in the development of Christian character and culture.

Concert Here

Charles Wadsworth, brilliant young piano soloist, returned to Reinhardt for the second consecutive year to give a concert on Thursday, September 14.

Mr. Wadsworth's program included numbers by Bach, Brahms, Debussy, and George Gershwin. He also played several of his own compositions. An added attraction was an informative and variety, are the grand work at Oberlin College, Columbia University, and the University of Chicago. He began his teaching career at Baldwin-Wallace College, where he was later Dean and Professor of English. He served two Cleveland, Ohio churches as supply pastor, and was a member of the Ohio College Association Inspection Committee. Dr. Wieke came to his present position in 1949 to succeed Dr. John O. Gross, who was made Executive Secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

Pi Epsilon to Sponser Stunt Nite

The annual Stunt Night will be held at the Reinhardt College Gymnasium, Friday night, November 3. A prize will be awarded the group putting on the best stunt. The Pi Epsilon, the College honor society, has charge of this program. Their members for the new year are: Ira Bedelle, president; Maxine Palmour, vice president; Barbara Burrell, secretary; Billy Barnes, treasurer; Betty Haley, Tommy Crawford, Cora Belle Tarpley, Sara Hardin, and Elizabeth Holbert. Miss Timmons, sponsor of the Pi Epsilon, hopes that we have a successful night as the proceeds will be for school benefits.

Reinhardt and Waleska Have Great Revival,

Revival services were conducted at Reinhardt during the week of October 15-20 in the gymnasium and chapel.

Rev. Rexfield Greene, pastor of the Waleska Methodist Church and Director of Religious Life at Reinhardt, has invited five different ministers to preach during the week. Each minister used as his theme for the morning service "Why I Am a Christian." At the evening services, the ministers methodist Church at Alpharetta, concluded the services on Friday. All these ministers are graduates of Reinhardt. Each of these ministers on his own for a day and were, without exception, crowded with students.

Mrs. Jean Stacey and students of the music and physical education departments, special music for the services.

Rev. George Irwin Talks on Russia

Rev. George Irwin, pastor of the Methodist Church at Marietta, Georgia, and former Chaplain of the United States Marine Corps, spoke to Reinhardt students and faculty in assembly on Monday, October 30, 1950.

Beginning with a discussion of the pagan religious system which prevailed in Russia, previous to the introduction of Christianity, Rev. Irwin told of the rise and fall of the Orthodox Church in Russia, of the early triumph of communism under Lenin and Trotsky, and of conditions in Soviet Russia at the time when they first heard and as he views them today.

Rev. Irwin appealed to all young people to fight communism, the system of government which enslaved Russia, and to stand for freedom.

Rev. McDonald Speaks Here

Of much interest was the address given by Rev. Sanford McDonald, minister in charge on October 2, 1950, on "Bringing the Race of Life." The three main points he stressed were cooperation and
