REINHARDT COLLEGE

BILLY BARNES, 1944-1963

DOUGLAS LEE, 1945-1963

For the influence they had on our lives,
for the inspiration of their efforts, for the fun of their friendship, we, the Sophomore Class of 1964, dedicate this book to the memory of Douglas Lee and Billy Barnes.

ADVERTISING

We come to find learning. We leave, having found ourselves. Our learning comes not from books alone, but also from the people around us. Our roommates, our teachers, the townspeople – each teaches us a little more about the world around us. We learn from the solitude through which we find ourselves and God and make lifetime decisions. Dear Reinhardt gives us a place for decisions because we are among others who are deciding.

For us, Reinhardt is symbolized by the people around us: chapel speakers from all walks of life who stay to become good friends, the townspeople who are a part of Reinhardt for us. Their concern for our learning and lives has made our stay at Reinhardt more enjoyable.

FUN AND

The start of the year brought – new acquaintances,
parties, parties, parties,
then initiation, rat court,
all climaxed by the big dance!

RELAXATION

Then things settled down to studying, taking walks, playing bridge, studying,
playing chess, working on the play,
but mostly studying.

Most important of all is the time spent studying. We learn from labs, library work, class discussion, and, for many of us, jobs.

In the end, we are better for our friendships, and close relations with the people of Reinhardt and Waleska.

PEOPLE

FACULTY

The faculty of Reinhardt is changing annually — new faces, new positions, new methods — but the understanding and warmth which each person radiates never changes. Dedication to the art of learning as well as to the art of teaching characterizes each individual.

Reinhardt College

Waleska, Georgia 30183

J. R. BURGESS, JR.
PRESIDENT

To the Members of the Class of 1964:

In the midst of great scientific discovery and achievement the greatest need of the world is love. Between two people love can create trust, contentment, rapture, expectancy, and fulfillment.

Between associates love can create cheerfulness, helpfulness, and mutual admiration resulting in greater achievements.

Between citizens love can create respect for law, unselfishness, pride in public institutions, the abolition of poverty, and freedom of opportunity.

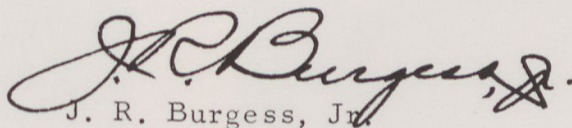

Between nations love can create confidence, co-operation, prosperity, and peace.

Why is it that there is so little love in the world when it is the key to all that man could desire?

Perhaps it is because all it offers seems to be too good to be true. We dream of love but find it impossible to really believe in it. It must not demand rewards, and most of us are seeking rewards.

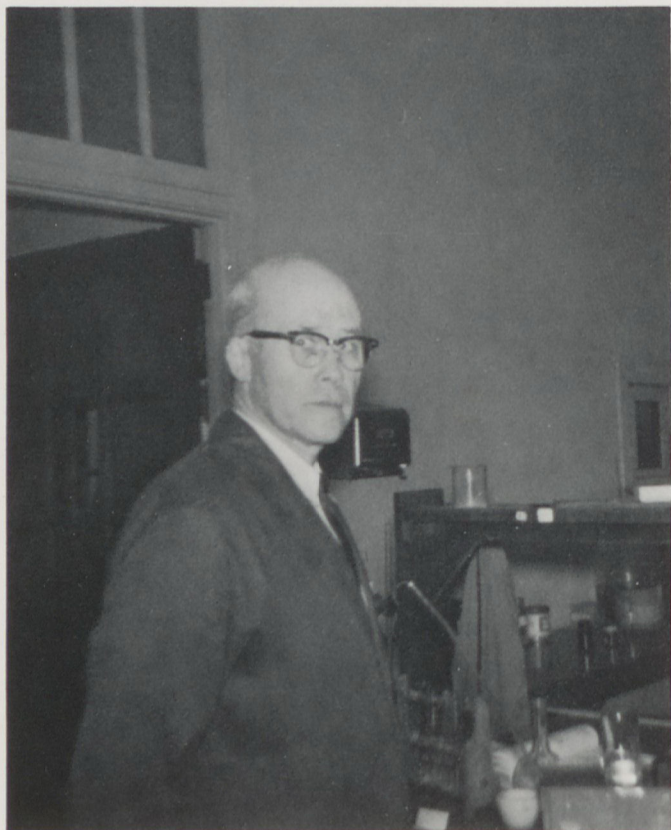

You can believe in the power of love! Because God is love. And remember love begins in the heart of man and spreads from person to person. To love and be loved is the greatest thing in the world. To witness to the power of God's love and to add to the world's reservoir of love is man's greatest hope for immortality.

Sincerely yours,

J. R. Burgess, Jr.

WILLIAM EDWARD PICKELSIMER

W. E. Pick

Twenty and one plus three did he grace our lives.
 So young, yet so wise
 Yet, were the others,
 The third made he to join hands with our God.

Joy in all forms marked his life or at least was the impression outward given.
 O, Pick, blessed friend
 and companion,
 We'll forget you not Tho we too depart
 From dear old Reinhardt.
