Art Consultant—Mr. Curtis Chapman
Editor—Judy Brown
Assistant Editor—Julia Ruskell

A BEGINNING STEP . . .

A beginning step but not really a beginning . . . Just another small step among giant ones. Starting a new life or just part of it . . . Away for the first time? Maybe not. A fresh start with all new people . . . The birth of a new experience. Learning to learn—Learning to love. Learning most of all how to live . . . Slowing the world down just long enough to get on . . . and run across the sand—leaving an innocent trail of footprints . . .

FIND A FRIEND . . .

Alone, afraid, abandoned, lost . . . Tears of unhappiness and confusion . . . A frightening new place . . . strangers, unfamiliar rooms—the sights and sounds of a place not yet one's own. Blank walls . . . blank floors . . . blank pages yet to be written on.

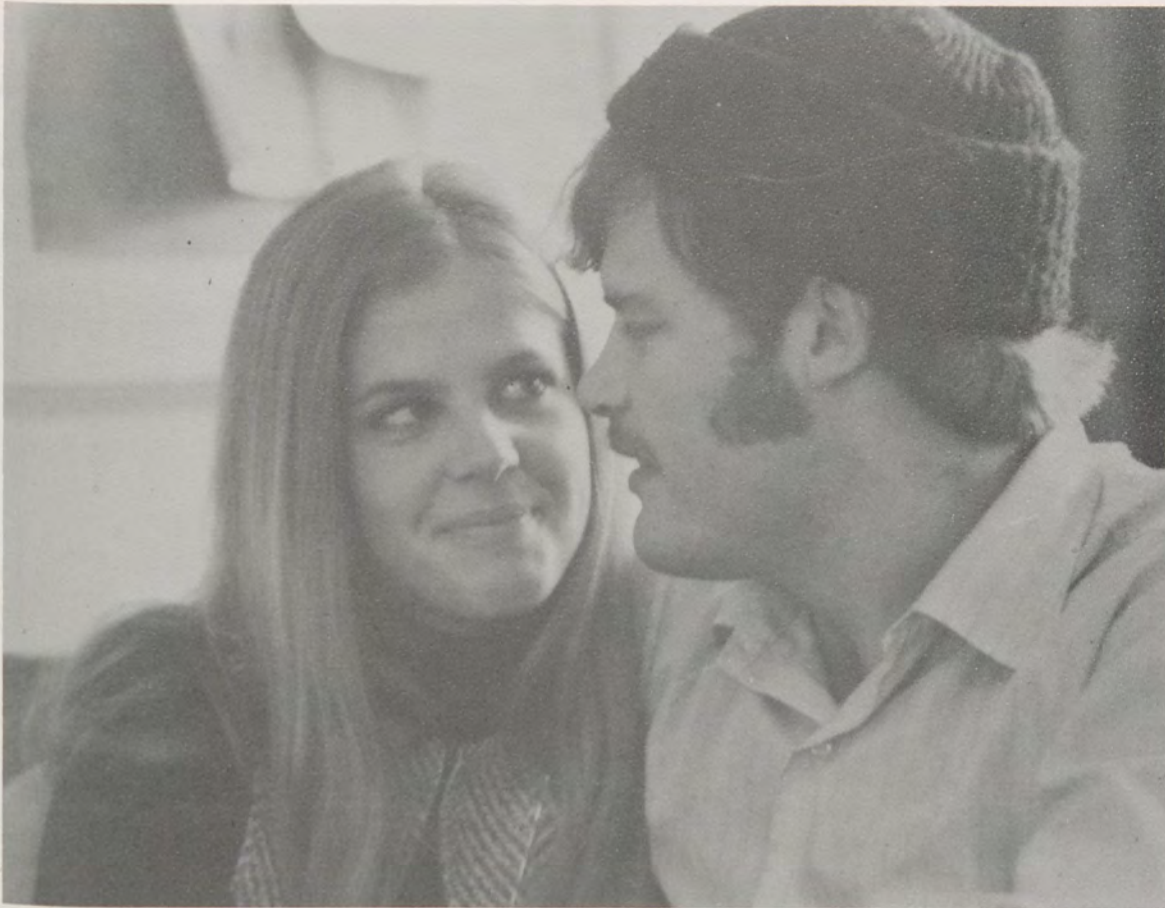

A new world just beginning to glow . . . Colors, forms, warmth . . . things seen with a friend . . . experiences shared—the awareness of harmony and peace. Loveliness . . . happiness . . . and, at last, a focus on what is real.

EVERYDAY LIFE . . .

Coming together . . . Cheering when your team wins . . . family
. . . getting together after dinner
. . . coming closer . . . rapping with a friend . . . finding you have close friends in time of trouble
. . . enjoying the closeness . . .
having a surprise birthday party
. . . finding somebody else who forgot about the test . . . it's not his . . . it's not hers . . . it's our family.

NATURE OF REINHARDT...

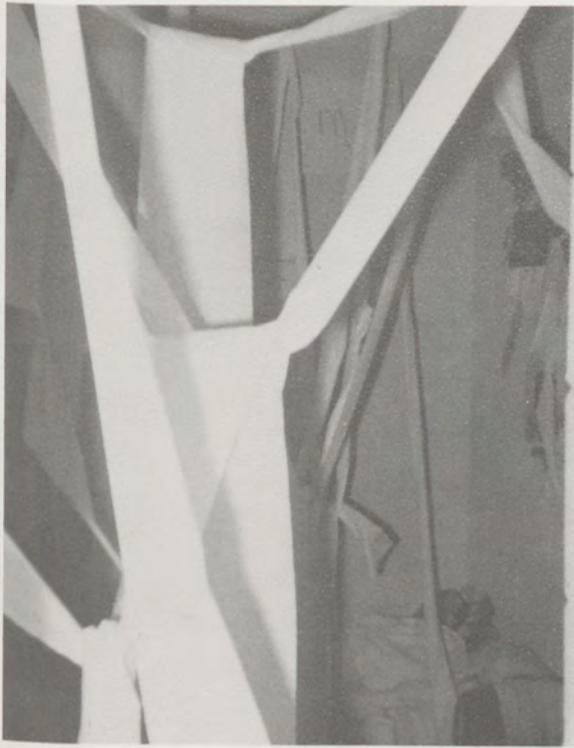

Individualism, self-expression, independence, and unity between its people are important to an institution of higher education, just as the soil, rain, and sun are essential to the growth and individual beauty of nature's pageant. We at Reinhardt are able to stand tall and strong, just as the tree can stand tall and strong; for we have that unity—we have that independence—and we have that individual self-expression.

THE FUN BEGINS . . .

STEPPING OUT INTO THE WORLD . . .

Our first steps are shaky and uncertain, but still facing forward. Only by keeping our steps forward and utilizing all of our abilities can we be independent and acquire the need and the ability to share. Walking, falling, and standing back up are signs of accomplishment and are necessary for our growth.

SPECIAL PEOPLE . . .

Mrs. Imogene Duke . . .

is an unfailing friend and advisor to the Phoenix Staff. When the going gets rough she never lets us down. Her bright smile gives us constant reassurance. Her vibrant personality is also an asset in her work as Public Relations Director.

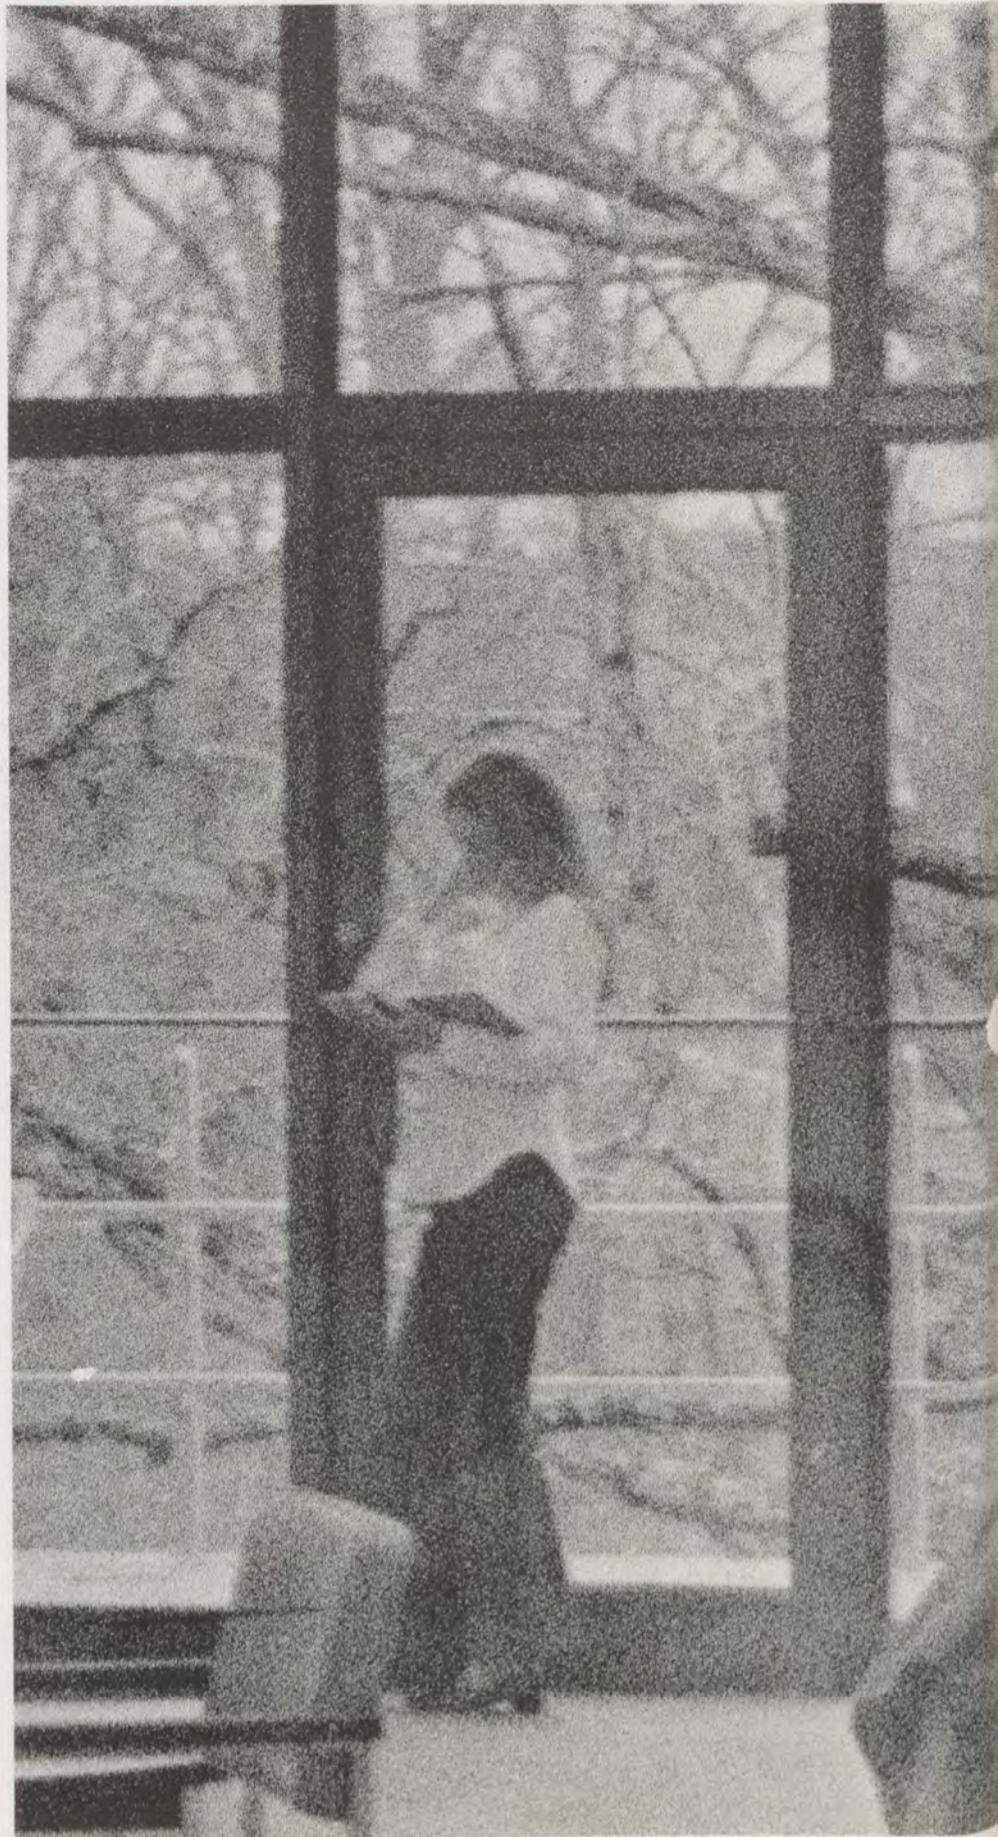

Mr. Earl Duke . . .

keeps a friendly smile and a handful of peanuts. His sharp wit radiates a feeling of enthusiasm on campus. His work involves pinchin' pennies and spending thousands.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

The institution . . . guiding us forward . . . dedicated service
. . . the personal touch.

We, the students, know the great effort and time that you spend on us is beyond repayment. It shows up on our campus as new buildings and as the individual seeds which have helped "our place" to grow.

You have given us everything . . . which we try day by day to cultivate and nourish to express our sincere gratification in what you have given us. In no way can we possibly give back to you all you have begun for us and supported all along the way. We can only hope to show you, by keeping Reinhardt a great institution, that your efforts have been planted, well cultivated, and admired.

Faces of the President . . .

Mr. Lee and two sponsors of Miss Korea present Dr. Burgess with an honorary Black Belt Degree.

Dr. and Mrs. Burgess

Growing, still developing, ever needing attention and care, Reinhardt marches on. Who can measure up to the responsibility of leading us? Someone strong, respected . . . one who cares. Where shall we turn for understanding? Who will listen to us . . . and understand? Tomorrow may bring change . . . will he change with time, still leading us in the right direction? We look up to our leader . . . Dr. J. R. Burgess, Jr. . . faith will keep us strong.

A New World Today

A new world tomorrow would be fine—except somehow tomorrow never comes. How about a new world today?

There can be a new world for you, provided:

First, you must believe in God. If you don't like the word God, try the word Good. God never made any law except for the good of man. You must have a belief in the value of goodness and in the power of love to transform the world. However, we cannot achieve goodness on our own, and that's where faith in God comes in. You must believe that the essence of goodness is truth—not always the knowledge of truth, but the willingness to search for the truth and the ability to spurn untruth when you recognize it.

You must believe that the essence of goodness is also honesty, the willingness to accept the truth and the willingness to turn one's back on error—once it is discovered.

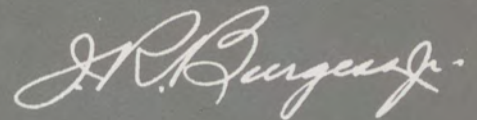

You must believe that the essence of goodness is justice—justice for all regardless of age, size, sex, race, or economic position.

You must look for loveliness and beauty which can be found all about you, and you must do your part to banish that which mars or pollutes our physical or moral world.

You speak of the good in others and tell of the things that cheer and brighten the lives of men.

To have a new world today, you must repent any wrong you have done your fellowman or yourself. You must believe in a better way of living and a better world to live in.

My hope and prayer for all of you is a new world today and a better world tomorrow.
