A First Look

The 2002-2003 year-book is centered around the theme “Looking Back”. This theme is carried through the book by pictures from the Reinhardt College Archives that show the college at various points in its history. The book also catalogues this year at Reinhardt.

Here's Lookin' at you

Student culture gives Reinhardt's campus a vitality, a heart. Activities planned by organizations contribute to this vitality while spontaneity and originality provide the rest. Spring days, dances, tournaments and plenty of personality give Reinhardt students ample opportunities to show their unique qualities while maintaining a "Cheers"-everybody-knows-your-name atmosphere. So Reinhardt, here's looking at you...

Chris Foster and Kendall Mize entertain the Reinhardt friends and family with a little Riverdance during the Inauguration celebration.

Slip Slidin'

This water sport made a comeback this year and was a featured event at both Water Mania and Spring Day.

SAC members Meghan Kinney, Crystal Chastain, and Jay Whitmire lead the line dance at Spring Formal.

Rudy Dunbar and Walter Christian warm up before the Atlanta AIDS Walk.

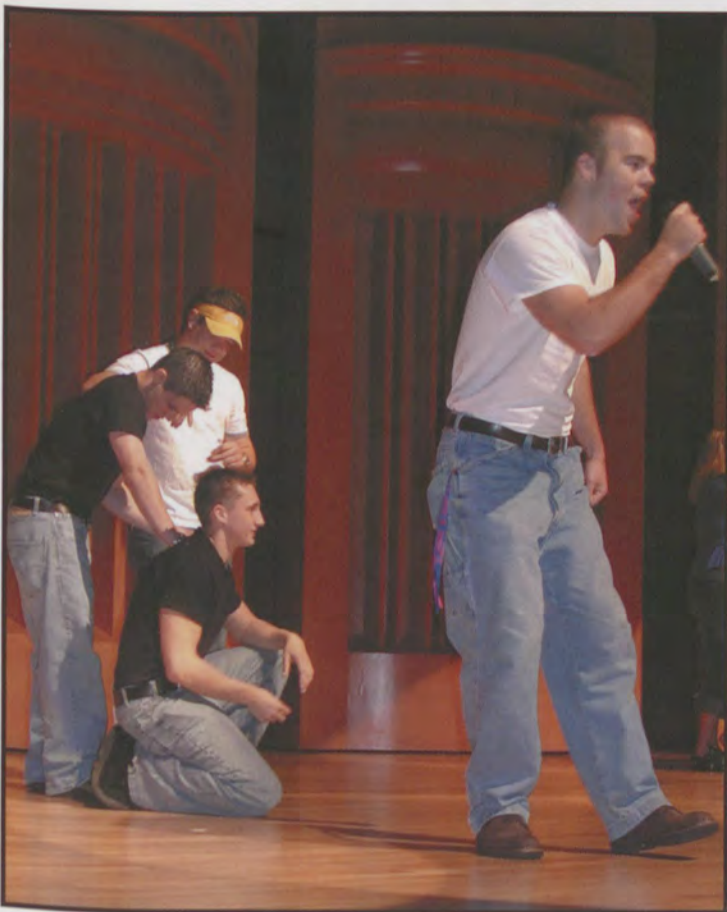

Yuck!

Water mania fought the lingering summer drought by using the least amount of water. The Student Ministry team used noodles, pudding, and HOT DOGS?! instead.

A Look at where you

Back in the Day

An old dorm room

live...

Residential Life

Each dormitory has its own personality. Whether you live in the spirited Gordy Dormitory or the haunted halls of Paul Jones, living in each dorm is a different experience. The twenty-four hour lobby allows those who require the minimum of sleep, plenty of time to visit and relax. Life in the dorms creates a sense of community and a spirit of family. The following is a look at where you live...

Herbert L and L

Gordy Hall was built in 1993 by a donation from Herbert and Lilla Gordy in order to show their dedication to God, to each other, and to the college. Traditionally the freshman girls dormitory, the dorm has also recently been used to house overflow male residents and the Office of Public Safety. The Resident Manager for Gordy Hall is "Aunt" Hilda Walker who has been with Reinhardt since the early 1970s.

Paul W.

Paul W. Jones Hall has housed many things in its past. Although it is currently used for male housing, in the past the dormitory was used for female housing. PJ, as it is affectionately referred to by its residents, is set up as three floors of rooms branching off in two hallways from a common lobby. In the past, the bottom floor has been used as a dining room and, more recently, the Public Safety Office. The middle, or main level, has recently been shorn of its flowered wall paper, left over from its female dormitory days, and is now outfitted with a big screen television and comfortable sofas. The top level of Paul Jones is privy to noises and visitations from the ghost of Captain Reinhardt that is said to reside there.

Student teacher Jacob Griffith did not appreciate the late night call to take dorm yearbook pictures.

Roberts Hall

Roberts Hall was built in 1969 with a generous donation from Martin Clyde Roberts. The building has three floors each with two suites. This year the bottom floor of the building was for male residents and the top two floors were for female residents. Roberts has been, for the past few years, honor's housing in which each student had to reach certain requirements set up by the Office of Residential Life.

Smith L. Johnston

Built in 1959 by the generosity of Smith L. Johnston, Sr., Smith Johnston may be one of the smallest dorms, but also one of the most close-knit family groups on campus. Smo-Jo, as it is referred to, consists of two hallways of two person room connected by bathrooms. Now a co-ed dorm, Smo-Jo is connected to the twenty-four hour lobby and co-hosts the semi-annual cookout each spring and fall.

The Paul-Jones Banquet Dining Hall

Dormitories of the 1920s like those shown above seem much different from the brick and mortar ones we are used to today. House mothers, one phone line, and little privacy were the norms of the period. The top dorm is Heidt hall, a girls' dormitory, the bottom dorm is a boys' dorm.

The dormitory shown here is Cherokee Hall, which is burning in this picture. The Hall was rebuilt and originally stood where the grass lawn of Gordy Hall is today.

From teachers to maintenance staff these people are dedicated to making sure that Reinhardt continues to care for and challenge its students. We see these people every day, but do we really know them. Turn the pages for a closer look...

A Look Ahead...

These are exciting times to look forward and dream of what is on the horizon for Reinhardt College. As the renovations of the Hill Freeman Library and the James and Sis Brown Athletic Center are completed this summer, we will begin the first phase of construction of new residence halls that will be completed for fall semester 2004. Soon to follow will be a new Student Center and new athletic fields. Our new degree programs will bring new students to both our Waleska and North Fulton Center. We look forward to expanding our honors program while we discover new ways to support all students as they face the challenge of new ideas. We will make our campus a year-round garden and a place for the enjoyment of nature's beauty. But most importantly, we will nurture and protect the spirit of Reinhardt. Reinhardt, as it has been in the past, will in the future be a special place of care and concern.

Organizations

Who wouldn't turn their heads to take a look at all the campus activities at Reinhardt College? Each of the student-led organizations has a purpose and schedule so unique that you can't help taking a look. From student Government Association's involvement with the campus community to the RAMS' International Dinner, there are exciting activities for each student at every glance. The number and variety of campus organizations will make you look for opportunities to be involved.

SGA

Student Government Association

"Shaping the quality of student life at Reinhardt College."

Student self-government plays a significant role in shaping the quality of student life at Reinhardt College. The Student Government Association represents all segments of the student body and is organized to help formulate and voice student opinion regarding all college policies, and to allocate its funding in appropriate committees. Participation in this important organization is open to all students through voting in SGA elections, attending Senate meetings, volunteering for one of the many SGA committees, and sharing questions and concerns about campus issues.

SGA Treasurer, Erik Mays doing his SOAR duty.

Melanie Scopa, the Secretary for SGA, takes minutes during a meeting.

Our SGA this year was one big family. I greatly enjoyed working with everyone and will take these memories with me as some of the best of my college career.

-Phillip

Being a part of SGA has really changed my life. It was a lot of work, but I am much more confident than I ever thought possible and I made lifelong friends. I am really proud of what we did this year and want to thank everyone that made this year so special.

-Melanie

Serving on SGA has been an honor as I got to represent the students with the trustees and other constituencies. In my opinion, this year's student government has given more back to the campus than in years past. We had a really great group of people this year and that is the reason for our success.

- Randell E. Trammell, 2002-2003 Reinhardt College SGA President

Student Activities Council

"To provide co-curricular activities for the student body."

The Reinhardt College Student Activities Council is a combined group of students whose purpose is to provide co-curricular activities for the Reinhardt College Community. SAC is a student led organization responsible for providing a balanced schedule of social, cultural, educational, and recreational programs and activities. This council works with national agencies, local organizations, students, faculty, and staff to provide programs and activities for students.

SAC's mission is to provide activities from coffee houses to spring formal dances. All of the members in SAC have worked very hard this year and I am so proud of each and every one of them. I have no doubt that SAC will be even better next year. We have a good group of people who get the job done, work hard, and enjoy doing it. These are the people who love Reinhardt and want the entire student body to enjoy themselves. I am so happy that I was part of a great group of independent, out-going, hard-working individuals. Great job, SAC! You have done a terrific job!

-Jay

The Student Activities Council has been a wonderful place for me to get involved. I have enjoyed the planning and execution for the various events that S A C is responsible for. I have made many great friends and developed some priceless relationships."

Cherokee Phoenix Yearbook

"Each and every staff member is a vital ingredient in the success of the yearbook."

The Cherokee Phoenix (or Pheonix to those editors not careful enough with spell check) gives an annual comprehensive view of campus life. The yearbook is a photographic record of a specific academic term (does that mean we don't have to do captions?) Each and every staff member is a vital ingredient to the success of the yearbook (are we making soup?). Each staff member must meet the various production deadlines (RIGHT!...so that's why we're here at 2:00 am typing this in!) Producing a yearbook is a useful learning experience for those involved, and it is also an enjoyable experience (well, at least that's true). --description taken from Reinhardt Organizations Description manual, (parentheses...us) your name here, your name here, your name here...looking forward to adding to the staff!

Being a part of the yearbook is being a part of history. To watch blank pages evolve into a story and ultimately into something that people will share with their children has been a priceless experience. The yearbook has grown over the past few years into something to be proud of, mostly due to the dedication of its staff and the cooperation and contribution of people all over this campus. I know that when I look back on my time as editor, I will feel a sense of accomplishment and relief that I will never have to come up with a caption again.

-Bonnie

As I've been on the yearbook staff since the 8th grade, working on the yearbook has played a major role in my life. I am looking forward to continuing my role on the staff as next year's editor.

Habitat for Humanity

*"To give people
a hand up, not

The Campus Chapters program of Habitat for Humanity International (HFHI) enables and encourages students to help eliminate poverty housing in partnership with Habitat affiliates worldwide. A campus chapter is an unincorporated, student-run, student-led organization that performs three main functions: building or rehabilitating houses in partnership with Habitat affiliates, national offices and homeowners; educating the campus and community about affordable housing issues and the work of Habitat for Humanity; and raising funds for the work of Habitat.

BSU and Real Deal

The Baptist Student Union is a student-led campus Christian organization that is completely open to students of all denominations, or no denomination. The main thing is that all students at Reinhardt are welcome and encouraged to attend everything the BSU offers. Our mission is to be an active, visible part of campus life that is open to students of all denominations. They seek to bring others to Christ through outreach activities and person relationships. Our goal is to serve others, develop Godly character, and promote unity among students on the Reinhardt college campus.

Real Deal is a contemporary-style worship service in the Ken White Student Center every Wednesday night at 8:30. They have their praise band and singers, as well as a special speaker and prayer time. Jacob's Well (our on-site coffee house) serves free coffee and hot chocolate as early as 8 p.m. Come early and fellowship then stay for worship.

"...Not to us, oh Lord, but to Your name be glory..."

A basic premise for clergy is to enable and equip laity for discipleship. In an attempt to encourage students to be in ministry and not to think of Chaplain's as "doing ministry for them," the Campus Ministry Student Leadership Team, sometimes called the "Student Ministry Team," works prayerfully to plan and do ministry on behalf of and with other students.

Reinhardt's athletic program has evolved through recent years as Reinhardt has changed. Since 1994, when Reinhardt changed from a two-year into a four-year institution, the athletic programs have strengthened dramatically, culminating most recently with this year with the Men's Basketball team traveling to Kansas City, Missouri to participate in the NAIA Division I National Tournament. To continue strengthening the program, Reinhardt plans to add women's softball in the fall. Excellence is the program's goal and Reinhardt is always on the lookout for incredible talent.

Look at the Time...

Reinhardt College Class of 1913

Special Events

Time flies when you're having fun, especially when you're spending time with friends.

Reinhardt provides plenty of opportunities for friendships and memories to be made.

Dances such as Boo Ball and Spring Formal give students a chance to dress in both costumes and formal wear. Spring Day is a time for welcoming a new season and Honor's Day is to honor those who have done their best. The greatest of these events, however, is Graduation. Graduation closes a chapter in students' lives and challenges them someday to remember and look at the time...

SOAR

Student Orientation At Reinhardt (SOAR), is a chance for all the incoming freshmen to get acquainted with the Reinhardt campus and their fellow classmates. This time also gives the students an opportunity to meet their professors. During the Freshman Induction ceremony, the students sign the Code of Honor which is a symbol of their commitment to excellence.

Students arrived August 23, 2002 with high expectations for the new school year.

Spring Day

From the pets...
Lindsay Poer's puppy says
hello to Tim Lee's Great Dane Brutus.

To the wax hands...
Although not a comfortable experience, the wax hands
booth remains popular.

Spring Day officially kicked off warmer, sunnier weather at Reinhardt. Originally, this traditional day of fun was called May Day and featured the Maypole Dance. This year's Spring Day dawned cool, but sunny and attracted faculty, staff and students alike. Organizations sponsored a variety of booths, the Donor's Plaza was constantly occupied with bands, and the Varsity provided most of the food.

To the obstacle
course...
Inflatables and rock
walls were challenging, yet fun.

To the Water Sports...

The Student Ministry team sponsored the water sports activities.

To the food...

The Varsity Room catered dinner.

To the entertainment...

Andrew Vickery was just one outstanding band to perform.

To the art...

Caracitures are always a fun addition to any event.

One Last

On the back of this picture a press release, dated January 29, 1952, is pasted. This is what it says: Pat Chappellear, a senior from Menlo, Ga., was recently elected "Miss Reinhardt" for 1952, by a vote of the student body at Reinhardt College. Miss Reinhardt is elected annually, and she is the chief sponsor of the Annual Championship Debates between the Pierce and Haygood Boys' Literary Societies. She is an active participant in all campus activities and portrays the required qualities of attractiveness, scholarship, and all-round ability. Miss Chappellear rejected an offer of $75 a week this summer in order that she might return to school and be graduated with her class.
